*A, B, C, and Why:
The Happiness of Homeschooling*

A second-generation homeschooling father of nine, John Clark—following the theme of his book Who's Got You?—focuses on the “why” of homeschooling. He employs both humor and serious insights to illustrate that educating children at home is one of the most fulfilling things parents can ever do.

7:00 - 7:45 P.M.
Mrs. Regina Doman

Seductive Evil and Wimpy Goodness

What's wrong with our imaginations? Using examples from books and media, this talk demonstrates the impoverishment of our imaginations and how we can recalibrate this important component using Scripture and the writings of good Catholic authors.

8:00 - 8:45 P.M.
Fr. Shannon Collins

Homeschool Families and the Counter-Revolution

The liberal revolution has completely pushed out the old Christian order. In such a time as this, the good Lord is calling for counter-revolutionaries to restore all things in Christ. Homeschool families are a key ingredient to winning this battle for the soul of the West.

The Strength of Christ: The Role Model for the Catholic Father

Much of the breakdown in society today has been caused by men forgetting how to be...well, men. This presentation highlights an obvious truth: that the perfect man already exists in Christ. Jesus exhibited various forms of strength and homeschooling fathers can model their strength after the strength of Christ.

10:30 - 11:15 A.M.
Fr. Sean Kopczynski

The Book of Tobias: Changing the World through Our Children

There are often more challenging things to do for the improvement of the world in the home than the world around us. The Book of Tobias is one of God's guides on how this can be done well. And we know that it was effective since Tobias and his child's efforts live on to this very day to help people change their lives and provide them consolation.

11:30 A.M. - 12:15 P.M.
Fr. Shannon Collins

The Hell There Is!

Our proper end in life is neither Harvard University nor even a good Catholic College, but rather Heaven. All our earthly accomplishments would be meaningless if we failed to achieve this goal, for to lose God for all eternity is a loss beyond our imagining. Learn that Hell exists and that it does have real fire.

12:30 - 2:00 P.M. Lunch/Vendor Time

2:00 - 2:45 P.M.
Dr. Catherine Moran

Boredom: Trivial Nuisance or the Mother of All Problems?

How many times have we heard our children say to us: “Mom! I'm bored!” This very statement by our children is telling us something. We do not want this problem to carry over into the educational aspect of our children's day-to-day lives. This presentation will cover the problem along with motivational helps for teaching.

3:00 - 3:45 P.M.
Mrs. Regina Doman

Who's Prettier: the Disney Princesses or the Blessed Mother?

Building on the idea of properly forming the imagination, this talk will cover how to communicate the truth about goodness and beauty to your children.
