Homeschool Expectations vs. Reality

When you start out homeschooling, you have an image of what it will be like for you and your kids. You jump on this journey and throw your whole self into it, sometimes with blinders on. What happens when your child hits a speed bump, or if your family hits potholes along this journey? How do you pull yourself back together, find your way, and form a new plan?

2:00 - 2:45 P.M.

Sr. Mary Joseph Heisler

Finding God in the Pots and Pans

This talk is a reminder from a Carmelite that changing diapers and ecstatic prayer are not mutually exclusive. There are not "two ways" of holiness and "two heavens" to attain—one for the contemplative and one for the active. All are called to deep prayer, even when being faithful to the daily duties of our state in life seems to belie that reality.

3:15 - 4:00 P.M.

Dr. Kevin Vost

The Catholic Art of Memory

Dr. Vost will explain how Sts. Albert the Great and Thomas Aquinas revived and transformed the ancient Greco-Roman "art of memory," provide a live demonstration with the audience, and show how teachers and students can adapt these ancient methods to learn and remember just about anything.

4:30 - 5:15 P.M.

*How Busy Parents Prioritize:
A Survival Guide*

Taking on new projects and volunteering can be great, but we always need to keep in mind that our time and energy are precious. As homeschooling parents, our families have a prior claim. Are you wearing too many hats? How can we get everything done that is important to us?
